PREDICT FOOTBALL TIE

Illinois and Minnesota Expected to Win Saturday.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 .- A tie in the western conference football championship between Minnesota and Illinois was forecasted today, the result of Saturday's games in the middle vest. Minnesota's victory over Chicago by a 20 to 7 score put Coach Stagg's Maroons out of the championship race. Illinois is expected to beat Chicago next Saturday and Minnesota is considered sure winner over Wisconsin. Those results will leave the two elevens with a clean slate except for tied games and there would be nothing to choose between the two teams. If the dope is upset next Saturday and Chicago and Madison win their games, the conference race will be hopelessly tangled.

City Must Get Civic Backing; However, to Compete Successfully With Michigan and Other Contenders.

Gradually all of the bowling organ- ing up the rear. izations operating in the city are affiliating themselves with the South Bend inated in the Federal league last week. Bowling association, the latest league tied for first place with the Bucktails 07 to join the association being the City in a fine position. However, the Antleague. "Goat" Anderson, sec- intrenchel. 00 retary, and Charles Van Kirk, representative to the city association.

Other leagues still without the fold 30 are gradually getting their affairs in shape to join the association this with envy as Miss Gutknecht of the week, among them being the Tribune Studebaker team rolled 173 and 204 league, which is practically set, the consecutively, while Miss Nellie Northern Indiana Gas & Electric Co., Holmes of the Singer team showed reporting similar conditions, with the 165 for one game, 59 Printers' league still to be heard from, The latter organization has had rather a rocky path to follow this season, having been forced to make a change .453 in the membership of their league be-.400 cause of the Catalog Service Co. team .400 forfeiting its franchise. However, they expect to be ready for affiliation short-Competition Already Developing.

South Bend is not going to have the easiest kind of sailing to land a tournament of the American Bowling congress in spite of the encouragement 333 already received from some of the officials of that organization. Three other cities already appeared on the surface .538 with good organizations to try for the 1917 tournament, namely Grand Rapids, Mich., Indianapolis, Ind., and Day-667 ton, O., with Milwaukee casting a flirt-.583 ing eye for favorable consideration. Grand Rapids is particularly strong in the field, as she is not in the field alone with her bowling organization .667 but has the backing of the chamber of commerce, a committee from the .593 city adinistration, combined with the efforts of kindred local civic organizations, all working in harmony with their object to secure the 1917 A. B. C tournament. Mr. E. J. Ryan, the president of the congress, is a resident of 333 Detroit, and is said to favor a city of his native state, and use his influence to bring about such a result. Local Forces Not Organized. If South Bend expects to receive any consideration in landing such a 429 huge gathering in the near future it is high time that some organized effort be expended in that direction. At present the local bowling clan has no .519 asset other than a good association 519 of the bowling forces, with a good live membership which will expend every effort to bring several thousand people to this city, which would do the city and its enterprises invaluable good, .630 if no other than leaving their money .630 in the city and be impressed from a publicity standpoint, Even the bowling forces should be successful in gaining the consent of American Bowling congress to accept the local association's invitation to hold their tournament in South Bend, we would not even have a building 667 of sufficient size to cope with the situation. A structure of this kind does .433 not have to be constructed of a spe-433 cial nature to furnish the purpose, as any building of sufficient floor space could be arranged, at little expense, .741 to suit the purpose. And there is every 704 reason to believe that the returns re-.556 ceived from the sources of revenue from a big bowling tournament will nearly bring enough to defray the expense of construction. Race Results in Many Ties. While the schedules of the Studeaker and Trio league were completed last week, the winners of places of honors are far from decided in the .556 former organization. These two teams, the Skeins and Tongues, tied for first place, while three teams, the Bolsters, Reaches and Spokes, are all alike for the remainder of the prizes, a very complex situation, which will require Antlers' League.

Lewels vs. Horns; Bills vs. many games to be played to decide the eventual winners. Going into the final week the Spokes and Tongues

The Tongues, too, were treated rather roughly for possible winners, losing two games to the Rims. But the Skeins made it possible to get another sters two games. The expected ties in the Trio league did not materialize as the Starters, who led in the stretch and won the pennant, came through winning all three games from their opponents, the Windshields. The Studebaker leagues will enjoy a vacation of two weeks during which period a tournament will be conducted in their club rooms, after which they start on their long season. Many Creditable Performances.

There were many creditable perormances on local drives last week. oth individually and collectively, these performances having its effects of many interesting situations. The Knights of Columbus team piled up good enough to win two games and also lose a notch in the standing of the clubs, as the Conservative Life United teams each won three games from their opponents, which brings the standing of the Ponies in first place, while the Bardeens pulled to even terms with the K. of C. boys. The City league teams have produced some fine scores this season and the past week showed a lot of them. The Conservative Life Ponies showed 2,789 pins for their series, of which Walter Witmer produced 604. Bardeen's United piled up 2,733 of which Hepler was the high gun with 649, a 218 series. Fred Hart, subbing on the K. of C. team, brought home his usual 600, going one pin over the charmed figure.

A general upheaval occurred in the CHICAGO, Nov. 15 .- Ad Wolgast Bankers' league, where all of the secoday was proudly displaying a check ond division teams trounced the leadfor $10,000, part of the money he ers with the result that the percentadvanced Jess Willard before Jess be- age column is seriously congested. produced some remarkable totals with their handicaps, the former bringing home an even 3,100, while the latter showed 3,012 as the result of their | afternoon's work. This week's games will be rolled with pomp and eclat, a nusical program through the courtesy of George Wheelock & Co. will be south Bend's Leading Optometrist and taged in conjunction with the matches.

Congestion Remains Unchanged.

Although the percentage column nows a procession rather than a race n the Temple league, interest is at a premium because of the close battle between the Hairs and Tusks. These two clubs have been fled for first place for the past four weeks and they are ust as tightly locked as ever.

No organization can boast of a tighter race than that which is in progress in the Knights of Columbus league. Although there are only four clubs involved the entire entente is within three games of each other, the Ninas leading and the Santa Marias bring-A congestion was considerably elim-
